Of course that, in the prospect, will enter in agro tourism circuit also other areas, settlement areas and rural folk, as tourism offer from rural area will develop. Among special items/uniqueness that builds the image of Romanian rural tourism brand, are mentioned (Figure 2):

1. Wonderful landscape;
2. Unique attractions;
3. Specific rural life, ancient, well preserved;
4. Blending traditional and modern.

The main needs/desires underlying tourists motivation for choosing Romanian rural tourism could be: [2]

1. Rest, relaxation, sports, maintaining/restoring health (physical);
2. Knowledge of art and history, contact with new forms of folklore, some unique attractions;
3. Meeting new people—here can be included both socializing and for business travel, escape from routine (interpersonal).

Among the regular events in the village may be mentioned: [3]

- participation to the life village ritual (work in farms or agricultural works in the field);
- participation to the spiritual life of the village (religious ceremonies, performances, evenings, weddings, baptisms, etc.).
- participation to the celebrations of all kinds of rural communities.

For a better understanding of the present level of rural tourism development and potential of rural areas, we decided to present a comparative analysis of the main Romanian rural destinations, performed by the Alba County Council, serving to provide a well-defined perspective over the specificity and Romanian rural tourism development potential (Figure 3) [5].

Rural tourism offer is dispersed in 31 counties, covering generally mountainous and hilly areas. In ANTREC catalogs are promoted rural guesthouses in over 3000 locations recorded. Most are found in counties with tradition in rural tourism (Brasov -
In table 1 Alba County Council has realized a comparative analyze on rural tourist destinations from Romania, [5] from which we can conclude that all destinations have many tourist attraction but underdeveloped infrastructure.

4. Conclusions

1. We must note that in our country, rural tourism has long practice, informally, to locals.
2. Rural tourism is one of the forms of tourism that we can compete with any tourism European developed country, in terms of existing tourism resources.
3. The most developed areas of rural tourism are the counties of Brasov, Suceava, Maramures, Alba, Tulcea, Buzau and Vrancea, Cluj, Neamț and Gorj. Over time, ANTREC focused on different regions for promoting them, such as Carpathian foothills of Buzau, Northern Oltenia Western Mountains.
4. Destinations and attractions are generally simple tourist products based on basic services (accommodation, meals) and less on leisure services.
5. Over time, foreign experts in rural tourism have noted the diversification of rural tourism and agro tourism products from Romania ("Live natural ", "Health and pampering", "Bird watching in Danube Delta", "Road cellars", "Journey in cheese Country", "On traces of Brancusi", "Nature and Culture ", etc.).
